THE CAMP MEETING.

PRESIDENT LOUGHEAD, OF UNION COLLEGE, ARRIVES.

The Forms of Church Government—Points of Difference From Other Religious Denominations.

Prof. James W. Longhead, acting president of Union College located at Lincoln, Nebraska, reached the camp ground yesterday afternoon. The Adventists thoroughly believe in education, and have a line of schools extending from Massachusetts to California. Prof. Longhead's visit is in the interest of education and at 8:30 this morning he gave an address upon the history of their institutions, the prosperity that has attended them, and their present standing.

Seventh Day Adventists, in church government, aim to secure the benefits of both church independence and a close union. Consequently each church in matters within its jurisdiction is independent of all others. Having an elder and deacon it is competent to transact its own business; yet it is customary in affairs of the most importance to have the advice of a conference officer. Once each year these churches elect delegates, one for each church, and one for every fifteen members of each church, to represent them at their annual conference. These with the ordained ministers constitute the conference or legislative body. All business is introduced by motion and carried or rejected by vote as in other legislative bodies. The conference transacts all business that does not pertain to the individual churches, and elects an executive committee consisting of a president and four others who have the supervision of the work during the year. Every two years each conference sends delegates to a general conference which has oversight of all their work, both home and foreign. As a separate denomination they are only forty-seven years old, yet their work now extends over the entire United States and Canada, with four conferences and several mission fields in Europe. They also have conferences in Australia and New Zealand, and missions in Africa, the West Indies and South America, and are doing work in Mexico, China and elsewhere. They also have a missionary ship engaged in carrying missionaries and supplies among the islands of the Pacific. For ministerial support they recommend their members to pay a fixed per cent. of their income. They do not compel this, but do strongly advise it. These contributions are sent through church treasurers to a conference treasurer, who pays out money only on order of the president. At the annual conference each worker is settled with by an auditing committee the majority of which is composed of lay members. By this means there is an equality in the payment of salaries that can not be attained any other way. It also enables the executive committee to send one of their ablest men to the help of a weak church, which if forced to depend upon its own resources would not be able to secure such help.

THE MILLENNIUM.

[A sermon by Eld. J. H. Durland, Text Rev. 20:1-9.]

The word millennium does not occur in the Bible; but the words, "a thousand years" is found several times in text, and millennium is from Latin words which mean a thousand years. There are a great many different ideas concerning this period which I will not take time to repeat, but will examine the Scriptures that bear on it. I ask you to follow me closely, and when I am done I think we shall agree, for I shall not present theories, but the Bible.

In our text we learn that Satan is to be bound for a thousand years; that a certain class are found alive; that the rest of the dead live not till the thousand years are finished; that Satan is loosed for a time, and that there is a resurrection of the dead. We read that, "the rest of the dead live not until the thousand years were finished." Then it is certain that some of the dead were resurrected at the beginning of the thousand years. If we can locate that resurrection we can tell when the thousand years begin. In John 5:28,29 we read that the dead are raised at the sound of the voice of Christ, and 1st Thess. 4:16 declares that at the shout of the Lord the dead in Christ shall rise first. Is not that what our text says? Rev. 20:6 "Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection; on such the second death hath no power." Then the righteous dead are resurrected at the beginning of the millennium by the shout of the Lord; but with that shout the Lord himself comes—1st Thess. 4:16. Therefore the millennium begins with the second coming of Christ. In Rev 22:12 we read, "Behold I come quickly, and my reward is with me to give every man as his work shall be," but immediately before this announcement of His coming, it is decreed in verse 11, "that those who are at that time unjust and filthy must remain so, and that those who are righteous and holy have their characters confirmed for eternity." After this occurs, can any one repent and be converted? No, you will say, and it is true. Then after Christ comes at the beginning of the millennium there will be no opportunity for repentance. When Christ comes will there be any alive on the earth? Yes.—1st Cor. 15:51-55. "We shall not all sleep—but shall be changed in a moment, at the last trump, for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed." When this change occurs where do the righteous meet the Lord? Read 1 Thess. 4:17—"Caught up to meet the Lord in the air." And the Bible nowhere says that at that time the feet of Christ touched the earth. Then we meet him in the air and he takes us away—where?

John 14:2, 3, tells us he has gone to prepare a place for us, and that he will come again and take us with him that we may be in the place he has prepared. Then Christ takes his children to those heavenly mansions. What a glorious time that will be when, clad in kingly robes, the voice of our Savior will ring through the arches of heaven, crying, "It is done." "Let him that is filthy be filthy still, and let him that is holy be holy still." And as the trumpet sounds louder and louder it shakes this poor old earth until it reels to and fro like a drunken man, or like a cottage in an earthquake. Isa., 24:20.

Now we learn that when Christ comes it shall be like it was in the days of Noah. Matt., 24:37-39. Were there any besides the righteous living in the days of Noah when the flood came? Yes, many wicked. Will it then be so when our Lord comes? It must be so if it is as it was in Noah's day. Well, what will happen to them? Second Thess., 2:8, "Then shall that wicked be revealed, whom God shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and destroy with the brightness of his coming." Then they die, do they not? Let me read another text. Jer., 25:30-33, announces a controversy with all flesh, and those that are given to the sword, that is, destroyed. When is this? Verse 30 says that it is when the Lord gives a shout, but we have learned that that is when he comes to resurrect the righteous. Then at the beginning of the millennium, the righteous are taken to their heavenly mansions to live and reign a thousand years, and the wicked living are slain. They who are "the rest of the dead?" mentioned in our text.—Rev. 20:5? We must say the wicked. Well if the righteous are all gone, and the wicked all dead, how many will there be alive on the earth? There will be none left says Jeremiah 4:25. Then how much opportunity will there be for gospel work during the millennium? Not very much, I am sure. No, now indeed is the day of salvation and you had better make sure work of your repentance.

Now let us go back a little. We learned that the righteous were taken away, and the wicked all dead, and Jer. 25:30-33 said they will not be buried—plainly because there will be nobody to bury them. For dead bodies cannot bury themselves. Now in Rev. 20:1 we read that Satan was bound and shut up in the bottomless pit. The word that is translated bottomless pit is the same Greek word (abussos) that in the Septuagint (Greek version) is used for "deep" in Gen. 1:2. But in Genesis we know it refers to the earth when it was in a chaotic form. Will it be so again? Yes, Jer. 4:27—"I beheld the earth and it was without form and void." We often use the expression, "my hands are tied," or "I'm bound down." What do we mean? We mean that everything with which we could work is removed from us so we can do nothing.

Well, is not Satan in just about that fix? Not a man alive on the earth, and its surface in chaotic ruins and (Jer. 4:24) even the light of the sun shut off, is it not as dreary a pit as could be imagined? In the text we learned that Satan was to be loosed for a season, also that the end of the thousand years, the rest of the dead—the wicked—be raised from their graves. Well, when they are resurrected will not Satan have some one on which to work? Yes, and will not that loose him out of his prison? What is his very first work? What it always has been, that of deceiving man, Rev. 20:8. And if we read about Gog and Magog in Ezekiel we will find they were very wicked. He deceives them and leads them up to take the camp of the saints, the beloved city which has come down to this earth. Rev. 21: tells us that the New Jerusalem came down—and in Zech. 14:4, 5, we learn that in that day, "when the Lord comes and all his saints with him," his feet will touch the Mount of Olives, and it will be come a great plain. There the city will rest, and Satan will lead all those wicked ones up around it to take it, and fire will come down from God out of Heaven and destroy them. I know not when this time will come, but I know from what we have learned of the signs of the times that it cannot be very long. So I beg of you to make peace with God and you shall find peace. And if you have peace with God you will rejoice in his coming, spend the millennium in those beautiful mansions, and escape the second death.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

How They Loom Up in Kansas City—The Sedalia Contingent in the Swim.

Hon. Mont. Carnes and wife returned from Kansas City last night. Speaking of the Knights of Pythias conclave, Mr. Carnes stated that there was the biggest multitude of uniformed men in Kansas City than he had ever seen before. The officers at the depot, he said, estimated the crowd at not less than 100,000. The parade yesterday afternoon, Mr. Carnes said, was the most magnificent pageant he ever witnessed. "It consumed one hour and forty minutes to pass by any given point. When each division exhibited any particular excellence it was cheered. It did my heart good to note the enthusiasm created when our own Sedalia boys came by. It seemed to me they received the greatest applause of any division."

The Missouri Knights are led by such men as W. A. Radcliff, H. H. Allen, both old Sedalians, and Edward Harber.

The combined procession was led by General Callahan, of Indianapolis. The latter part of the parade was thoroughly drenched on account of a heavy shower that began falling about 5 o'clock.

Looking for a Horse Thief.

Sheriff Ellis R. Smith was busily engaged to-day in searching for a horse and a probable thief. The horse is a good saddle, 16 hands high, a bay, with white hind feet.

On last Friday at noon Ira Hinsdale was approached by a man who said that he had a horse two miles distant in the country concerning which he wanted Mr. Hinsdale's opinion. Mr. Hinsdale was unable to go at the time, and it has since been learned that from all descriptions given this was the much wanted horse. Will Sprecher saw the horse. The animal is the property of Geo. Stewart, of Marshall.

Pronounced Incurable.

Sheriff R. E. Dornan, of Morgan county, passed through this morning en route home from Nevada where he went to take back an incurable patient, John Monsees, by name.

Monsees has been confined for about one year for lunacy, but has manifested no signs of improvement. He will be taken to the Morgan county poor farm.

A MIGHTY HOWL.

TROUBLE BREWING AMONG THE LABORERS.

A Number of Laborers on the Kite Track are After the Kansas City Contractors.

There has been considerable trouble brewing during the past two weeks over the fact that some of the laborers engaged by the contracting firm of Wheeler & Elmore, of Kansas City, have failed to receive their money for work done by them.

At the beginning of the trouble Mr. Elmore came to Sedalia and told the men that they would receive their money as soon as the fair association was satisfied with the estimates of the amount of work done by them, and that until that time they would have to wait. For this purpose the association had employed Merritt Yeater, Sedalia's former city engineer, and not until a few days ago did he complete his estimates and send in his reports. In the meantime, the association had paid to the firm of Wheeler & Elmore, money ranging in the neighborhood of $8,000. Afterwards, and before the estimates had been received from Mr. Yeater, they made another payment, making the total amount paid $9,600.

Now comes the disagreeable part of the transaction. Mr. Yeater's report showed that the total amount due Wheeler & Elmore was only $9,500. The fair association was accordingly in the hole for the extra $100.

The wages due the different laborers does not exceed between $600 and $700. All of them depended upon their daily work for their living and when the money ing his spoils in a lavish manner when a special officer collared him. Constable Bob Ramsey took him before Justice Levens this morning where the boy was fined $5 and costs, over $20, and will go to jail, if his parents do not pay the fine.

was not forthcoming, a storm accordingly began to rise. A number of them called upon Mr. Elmore a few days ago and demanded their "time." He promised to give it to them and at an appointed time met the men. They were happy, as they saw the evident indications of getting their money. But the smile soon faded away. Mr. Elmore stated that they would be paid in this way: An order for the wages due them would be drawn upon the fair association, if the men would give a receipt in full for the amounts and thereby relieve Wheeler & Elmore from any further obligations. This was hooted at and a big howl arose.

Mr. Elmore did tarry long, but took passage to Kansas City, and the men are still waiting.

The EVENING DEMOCRAT.

"I would earnestly advise them for their good to order this paper to be punctually served up and to be looked upon as a part of the tea equipage."—ADDISON.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—Patrons of the EVENING DEMOCRAT will confer a favor upon the management by promptly reporting any irregularity in delivery or bad condition of paper from improper handling.

THE continued drought has done much damage to crops in this state.

Go to work to secure the north and south railroad. It will help to bring us manufacturing enterprises.

THE grand rally on the 30th will bring the biggest crowd Sedalia ever saw if only the weather is favorable.

THE force bill should be entitled "a bill to perpetuate power in the hands of the plutocratic machines."

ADVICES from headquarters say that democratic clubs are being organized at the rate of fifty or sixty per day.

SEDALIA can afford to spend thousands of dollars, if necessary, to put the city in first-class sanitary condition.

THE New York democrats are getting into line and fixing for the fight that is to give the democracy 75,000 majority in the Empire state.

THE presidential contest in this country is between Cleveland and Harrison. A vote for Warner is simply a refusal to participate in the election.

THE employment of a few thousand men and teams in the building of the north and south railroad this fall would not be a bad thing for the counties through which the line is to run.

SHALL we have a great big state fair next year, with premiums worthy of the state? If so, let the progressive men of Missouri get to work now and create a sentiment favorable to an appropriation.

THE policy of the republican party is to build up favored classes in this country. The policy of the democracy is equal rights for all and special privileges for none. Every intelligent man should be able to make a choice between the two.

THE republicans admit the infamy of the force bill by their constant denial that it is an issue. And yet it was the pet measure of Ben Harrison and is endorsed in the republican platform. The place for a republican who is ashamed of the force bill is in the democratic party.

THE republicans of Missouri have not yet succeeded in killing Filley off. "De ole man" has it

"in for" the whole gang who did him up, including Warner and our fellow-townsmen, Judge Shirk, and he will show them in November how really powerless they are since they laid "the boss" on the shelf.

GEN. CARNES has become so completely master of the situation in the Tennessee mines as to be able to make "Bud" Lindsay, the great mountain desperado, scrub and clean a church. It is a great victory for a militiaman to make a typical mountain desperado give up his Winchester for the harmless but necessary scrub broom.

THE great question in American politics this year is whether the people of the several states or the federal machine at Washington shall manage elections and count the votes. This question includes the tariff question and the financial question as well. If the plutocratic machine is to count the ballots it can perpetuate the system which brought it into power.

DURING the glorious year of 1892 the brave militia boys of this country have had something to do in several states. It is a pity, however, that in this enlightened age the American people must depend upon military force to settle labor troubles. Is it not possible for enlightened statesmanship to frame laws that will be fair enough and just enough to discourage riots?

THE DEMOCRAT does not believe that under the operations of fair and just laws any considerable portion of the American people need to be kept under subjection by the strong arm of military power. The numerous strikes that have occurred this year and the frequent calls upon the militia to preserve the peace are merely the outward symptoms of a disease which it should be the province of true statesmanship, and not of the sword, to cure.

THERE is a great deal of food for thought in the Chronicle's remark that "St. Louis spends $100,000 each fall to feast the ears and eyes of the strangers within the gates, but permits forty-eight men and boys to drown for want of safe public bathing facilities." There are a great many things of more practical benefit to a city than fireworks and illumination and it does seem that a city that can spend $100,000 every year merely for show might invest half that sum in public baths.

THE alarming spread of Asiatic cholera in Europe should stir the people of the United States to the need for enforcing the very best sanitary regulations. Happy will be that community which begins to take steps to prevent the spread of the disease before the epidemic is at the door. Let Sedalia begin at once. Let the board of health see that everything that is possible is done to make Sedalia as near cholera proof as any community can be. There are idle men in Sedalia who would be glad of a week's work in cleaning up the city, and even if cholera does not reach this country the money spent in cleaning up would be well invested.

STEVENSON, whose first name is Adlai, is advertised to speak at the democratic rally in this city on next Tuesday. Will he be here?—Gazette.

This in face of the fact that Editor Streit and everybody else in Sedalia knows that Gen. Stevenson gave to Mr. Geo. P. B. Jackson, at his home in Bloomington, his personal promise to be here and speak on the 30th. The Gazette claims to be anxious to benefit Sedalia, but in order to gratify partisan malice it seeks to create the impression that Gen. Stevenson is not coming here, hoping in that way to prevent people from attending the rally. The Gazette has maliciously published several other articles hinting in the same direction, and this, too, notwithstanding the democratic press treated the republican rally with the greatest courtesy. Either Editor Streit is too ignorant to know what should be the course of a Sedalia journal, or he is too narrow to be even decently fair in his statements.

SCIENTISTS tell us that cholera will not reach the United States this year. But the dread scourge is already raging at Havre and Hamburg, two ports from which much of our immigration comes, and a week from now it may be in New York, the scientist to the contrary notwithstanding. In this view of the case the proper thing for prudent people to do is to get ready to ward off the disease. Let the city employ gangs of men to thoroughly clean up Sedalia. See that the streets and alleys are free from filth; cut the weeds and destroy them; put the city in the very best sanitary condition; if property owners do not take proper precautions, let the city officers see that property is kept in proper condition of cleanliness and collect the cost of the work done from the owners or users of such premises. Sedalia has an enterprising, efficient city administration, and now let it take this matter in hand in earnest. Then if cholera comes the Queen City will be ready to meet it; if it does not come it will be money well invested anyhow.

ALL ABOARD FOR SEDALIA.

A Special Train Chartered and the Round Trip Rate $1.
From the Nevada Democrat.

R. D. Thatcher, of Sedalia was in the city this morning arranging with the local democracy for the attendance of a large representation of the city and county democracy at the Sedalia rally. He reports that they expect to outdo the republican rally—from 30,000 to 40,000 people being expected at the big demonstration.

A special train has been chartered to leave Nevada at about 7:30 a. m. and to return when the local democracy attending desire, the round trip rate being $1. Nevada and Vernon county is expected to be represented by at least 500.

Will Vote For Cleveland.

The Marshall Democrat News in speaking of Mr. Baldwin Harl the oldest citizen of the state, says: "Uncle Baldwin will be 102 years old next December. He is only in tolerably good health, but is remarkably well preserved for a man of his age. He informed the doctor that if there was no Providential hindrance, he would go to the polls next November and cast his vote for Cleveland and Stevenson and the straight Democratic ticket."

Curious Happening.

In attempting to alight from a swiftly moving street car at Broadway last evening, a young man, whose name was not learned, was pitched violently to the ground. The car was stopped and several went to his assistance, when it was found he was pretty badly bruised. His dust covered clothes were rent, and withal he presented a very bad appearance. He stated that when he touched the brass rail on the front dash, he received a shock of electricity that thoroughly unnerved him. He was taken home.

To Purchase Ground.

The ladies of the charity hospital fund met at the Commercial club rooms last night to make arrangements for purchasing property on which to build the hospital. Most of the gentlemen composing the advisory board were absent and it was thought better to postpone matters until there was a fuller attendance. It is the purpose to buy property costing about $5,000.

Running Around the Loop.

The Third street electric railway line is now in full and complete operation, the cars passing entirely around the big loop. Cars going west on Third, pass on around, reaching the city again via Ohio street. The Sixteenth street cars come in via Third street.

Still Working the Track.

Seth Griffin is putting in a dirt fill of from three to four inches, extending from east of the starting wire to the eighth post. This will enable the horses to score with greater ease and rapidity.

Sent to Three States.

N. H. Gentry made a shipment of three very fine Berkshire hogs yesterday. They were consigned one each to Jas. Quorllo, Kearney, Mo., A. L. Charles, Lancaster, Kansas, and James W. Townley, Octavia, Nebraska.

Painful Accident.

Dr. Mills met with quite a painful accident yesterday afternoon. In trying to get aboard a moving train, he missed his footing and fell face foremost on a cinder heap, bruising his face considerably and causing very painful injuries.

Cut in the Face.

A little son of Pat Riley, living on Fifth and Wagner, got into an altercation with another small boy yesterday and was cut in the face with a hatchet. Dr. S. G. Crawford was called in to sew up the wound.

GRAND PARADE.

Knights of Pythias in Full Panoply at Kansas City.

A SCENE OF BUSTLE AND LIFE.

The Great Demonstration Passes Off Successfully at All Points—Meeting of the Supreme Lodge Previous to the Parade.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 24.—The supreme lodge Knights of Pythias met in session yesterday. Mayor Cawthorne welcomed the delegates to the city. E. M. Harber, grand chancellor of Missouri, responded.

When Gov. Francis was introduced hearty applause greeted him. As the executive officer of Missouri he greeted the Pythian army in an address which was frequently applauded.

After the cessation of the applause following the governor's address, Chairman Maybury said that there was present a modest young man named William Warner, who would welcome the visitors. Responding to this introduction Maj. William Warner stepped toward the footlights and was greeted with a volley of cheers by the visitors, many of whom recognized him not only as a Knight of Pythias, but as ex-commander of the G. A. R.

"I thought that my chief qualification, modesty, would be found at last," said he, and then he was forced to wait for the cheering to subside. It was somewhat difficult, he continued, to follow in the wake of the eloquent gentleman who had preceded him, to say aught in cordial greeting. He was glad that the chief executive had left the capital and had come to the city on the western border of the state to greet them. He was the executive of a state more richly endowed by nature to make its people great, progressive and happy than any other in the union. It was a state, too, in which the wearers of the blue and the gray led their children to clasp hands above the tombless graves of the dead and return thanks to Him who had preserved them. Sectionalism and sectional hate had been buried in the state as much so as in the noble order of Pythias. The great factor in bringing this about, he said, were organizations such as the one he was now welcoming to the city. He was present, he said, on behalf of 2,000 Pythians who have their homes within this rugged, thriving city, to welcome the visitors.

When Supreme Chancellor George B. Shaw stepped forward to respond to the warm words of welcome and cordial hospitality which had been proffered, a wave of applause went up which embarrassed somewhat the self-possessed ruler of the Pythian order. At its close, as the representative of the Knights of Pythias, he thanked briefly but eloquently the individual speakers and then the bodies, state, municipal and fraternal which they represented. The supreme chancellor has a reputation as a clear, cogent and forcible speaker. He sustained it admirably this morning. The lateness of the hour precluded a lengthy response, but in the few sentences of his brief speech he acknowledged for the Pythians grateful thanks for the proffered hospitalities and appreciation of those rendered.

The Parade.

If the scenes down town were animated during the early afternoon, while preparations were going on for the great event, those at Camp Shaw were more so. A casual spectator would have supposed that a revolution was in progress, and that the forces of the state were being massed to defend the homes of the city. Everywhere was hurry and inextinguishable confusion. Here there was a division brightening up its accoutrements; there was a little knot of officers preparing to mass their commands; over yonder was a detachment of sir knights already ready to move and only waiting for the order to march fuming at their slower brethren. Slowly, as a serpent unwinds its mighty length, the endless line began to move, and in a short time something like order was brought out of the confusion. One by one the brigades, regiments and divisions filed into place, and as the crush was more and more relieved, the line took upon itself the semblance of a procession. Very brilliant were the brigade commanders, with their raven plumes and epaulettes of gold. The colonels wore red and black plumes, and looked like brave knights marching off to the wars. The sir knights of the rank and file wore red plumes, but their furnishings were not less bright than their superiors. The military character of the uniform rank received the most emphatic demonstration as the line was ready to move, and the plaudits which it received all along the line were not undeserved.

In the line there were 2,000 men from Indiana, 1,200 from Missouri, 1,200 from Kansas, 1,300 from Ohio, 300 from Wisconsin, 600 from Texas, 500 from Nebraska, 500 from Kentucky, 1,000 from Tennessee, 1,600 from Iowa, 200 from Minnesota, 150 from Michigan, 1,200 from Illinois, 140 from Massachusetts and assigned regiments, the remaining being made up of innumerable detached regiments and divisions. It took the parade something over two hours to leave the camp and over an hour to pass a given point. Promptly at 4 o'clock the glittering cavalcade moved. At the head was Maj.-Gen. James R. Carnahan, mounted on the famous stallion, Kentucky Bright Eyes, and he headed a staff of sixty-two brilliantly uniformed men, who made a magnificent appearance as they dashed down the column and took their places at the head of as brilliant an array of plumed knights as ever marched proudly through the streets of a great city. In front of the major-general and staff rode a squad of mounted police to keep the streets clear for the parade which was to follow. Amid a storm of applause from the watching thousands the general commanding rode to the head of the line at Fifteenth and Campbell. Their arrival at this point was the signal for the order to march.

THE KANSAS DIVISION.

Gen. Joseph Lyon had the good fortune to command one of the largest brigades of the day, there being four regiments in line, represented by forty-eight divisions, many cities sending three and four divisions each. All along the line of march the command was received with cheers, and it seemed as though the men knew everybody in town. Their marching was good and they were proficient in their wheels, judging from the manner in which some of the divisions with twenty men abreast swung into Grand avenue from Fifteenth street, and again from Grand avenue into Fourteenth street. Gen. Lyon also had one of the largest staffs in the parade, and it was remarked that the staff officers sat their horses better than any of the other general's aides. This command marched:

Gen. Joseph Lyons and staff.
Band from Fort Leavenworth, Fourth regiment, U. S. A.

Kansas Second regiment, divisions from Weir City, Parsons, Girard, Ottawa, Paola, Chanute, Pittsburg, Chetopa, Lincoln, Fort Scott, Neodasha and Erie.

Third regiment, Col. Houston commanding. Band from Wellington; divisions from Wichita, Arkansas City, Winfield and Albany.

Fourth regiment, Col. W. B. Bennett commanding. Band; divisions from Salina, Larned, Nickerson, Hudson, Lyons, McPherson and Garden City.

First regiment, Col. H. L. Alden commanding. Band from Kansas City, Kan. Divisions from Atchison, Emporia, Holton, Kansas City, Kan., Leavenworth, Purcell, Horton, Topeka.

THE NEBRASKA DIVISION.

The Twelfth division was composed entirely of Nebraska regiments, with Gen. H. S. Hotchkiss in command. The Nebraska men had fine uniforms and made quite a show in the parade.

First regiment—Col. M. Savage.

Second regiment—Col. A. L. Lott.

Third regiment—Col. E. A. Coombs.

Fourth regiment—Lieut.-Col. F. S. Elleck.

The Sixteenth regiment had with them the Geneva, Neb., band of twenty-five instruments.

THE MISSOURI DIVISION.

The Missouri brigade formed the Thirteenth division and, as usual, presented a magnificent turnout with the largest division of any in the line. It was headed by Gen. S. B. Prevost and staff, with the Third Regiment band and the Carthage Light Guard band, two of the finest musical organizations in the state of Missouri. The First and Second regiments had twenty divisions in line; they were led by Col. M. W. Anderson and staff and Col. C. G. Moore and staff. The divisions were: Kansas City, No. 3; Kansas City, No. 22; North Star, No. 19; Excelsior Springs, No. 35; St. Joseph, No. 17; Liberty, No. 32; Independence, No. 19; Prevost, No. 1; Gate City, No. 4; Chevalier, No. 14; Red Cross, No. 4; Star, No. 9; DeSoto, No. 10; Cour de Leon, No. 15; Idlewild, No. 27; Macon, No. 2; Cole, No. 31; Imperial, No. 15; Apollo, No. 12.

The Third regiment had ten divisions in line and was led by Col. G. R. Grey and staff. The divisions on parade were: Ascalon No. 15, Thayer No. 29, Aurora No. 33, Carthage No. 34, Calanthe No. 37, C. R. Gray No. 38, Joplin No. 40, Webb City No. 11, Springfield No. 21, Willow Springs No. 41.

The Fourth and last regiment of the Missouri brigade had nine divisions in line and was led by Col. J. G. Miller and staff. The divisions of this regiment were: Crescent No. 8, Walker No. 6, Myrtle No. 23, Kellar No. 9, Slater No. 36, Moberly No. 5, St. Elmo No. 20, Nevada No. 8, Fleur-de-lis No. 7.

GREAT EXCITEMENT.

Roman Church Circles Expect a Tremendous Scandal.

CARDINAL RUGGIERO DISMISSED.

An Ecclesiastical Napoleon of Finance Causes the Papal Authorities Much Concern—Mgr. Folchi Unjustly Treated.

ROME, Aug. 24.—Great excitement has been caused by the dismissal of Cardinal Ruggiero, prefect of finance of the propaganda who has been looked upon by many as the probable successor of Pope Leo XIII. It is said that the pope himself ordered Ruggiero's dismissal, being convinced as a result of inquiry that Ruggiero and not Monsignor Folchi was the really guilty party in connection with the misinvestments, to use a mild term, for which Monsignor Folchi was dismissed from the papal service about one year ago.

The dismissal of Folchi was brought about, it is said, by Cardinal Ruggiero. Folchi was vice chamberlain to the pope and had control of the papal funds. It was alleged that in the winter of 1890-91 Monsignor Folchi, who was supported by Prince Buoncompagni and Baron Lazzaroni, resolved, in order to save the Banco Di Roma, in which the Vatican held 10,000 out of 20,000 shares, besides other securities, to establish first in Paris and London and afterward in Rome, Berlin and New York, a syndicate of Catholic banks, with the object of absorbing the financial societies of Rome that were known to be in a disastrous condition and to restore them to vitality, while at the same time raising the value of the depreciated securities. Above all they wanted to save the Banco Di Roma, intending, as they eventually did, entirely to reconstruct it. The Banco Di Roma was created with a nominal capital of 6,000,000 lire ($1,000,000), divided as already stated into 20,000 shares. But the real working capital consisted of 3,000,000 lire ($500,000). As Mgr. Folchi has taken on account of the Vatican 10,000 shares, the administration of Peters Pence found itself involved nominally to the extent of $2,500,000. Mgr. Folchi had, however, deposited in the bank the sum of 3,000,000 lire.

At that time the financial circles in Rome were interested in supporting the creation of these Catholic banks and they were desirous of helping this financial movement in order to put the depreciated securities on a firmer footing. Consequently Monsignor Folchi proposed to the commission of cardinals that the Vatican should enter into the combination to the extent of 3,000,000 lire. He warmly supported the project, claiming that the Roman securities of the Vatican and the millions of lire invested in the Banco Di Roma could not be saved in any other way.

Cardinal Di Ruggiero, it is claimed, was strongly opposed to the proposition and protested against it with such success that the commission was merely consultative and had no authority to veto the plan. Monsignor Folchi ignored them and carried out in conjunction with Lazzaroni and Prince Buoncompagni the financial project which had been submitted to be rejected by the commission. Monsignor Folchi commenced by sending a part of the money to Paris, where the first part of the proposed banks named Le Credit was founded.

As the pope had not been informed of this arbitrary speculation, and as the commission was only informed of it when it had taken place, Folchi was dismissed and the commission hitherto purely consultative became a deliberative body.

Such was the story made public at the time of Folchi's dismissal. Later investigations, however, which have been quietly going on, appear to have exonerated Folchi and implicated Ruggiero. There is great excitement in church circles and it is generally believed that a tremendous scandal is awaiting disclosure.

The Pamir Dispute.

SIMLA, Aug. 24.—Fearing that they will seize upon part of the Pamir region that belongs to Afghanistan the ameer has asked the government of India to intervene to prevent Russian aggression in that region. It is thought that Russia's object is to first assert her right to Shingai, occupying it and driving out the Afghans, who have taken possession of the place, and to turn the Chinese position in Kashgar. The Novosti, of St. Petersburg, recently declared that Russia could not permit the occupation of Afghanistan by Great Britain.

Train Wreckers in Pennsylvania.

READING, Pa., Aug. 24.—After the express on the Pennsylvania road, due in this city from Philadelphia at 8 o'clock last night, had crossed one of the iron bridges two miles below Reading, going forty miles an hour, it dashed into four heavy timbers placed across the track. The rear wheels of the locomotive jumped the track and it was three hours before the train was moved. The lives of over 100 passengers were imperilled.

Destructive Cloudburst.

ROANOKE, Va., Aug. 24.—A cloudburst occurred here last night about 11 o'clock and within thirty minutes over $100,000 of damage had been done and at least one life lost. The business portion of the city, which is on low land, was the principal sufferer, every store on Salem avenue and Jefferson street being flooded and their contents badly damaged.

POLICE COURT.

A Motley Crowd Take Their Turn in the Box for Various Offenses.

Jennie Jackson, a negress, was up on three charges, drunkenness, disturbing the peace and resisting an officer. Jennie was of the toughest of the tough. She was so tough that the wind cracked its teeth every time it blew against her. She swept her battalions of war along battle row on Main street last night, and it required three policemen to put her in the calaboose. Fines aggregating $55 made Jennie feel still tougher as she was given a front seat on the rock pile.

Buck Shelby paid $5 for a drunk. The case against Jim Turley, a successor to the famous white fighter, had the charge of disturbing the peace dismissed.

H. Oberts, J. W. Crites and C. Coles, for trespassing, were fined each. The first paid his fine and the others were given a stay.

News About Different Roads, Employers and Employees.

Tim Gallivan, the good looking Missouri Pacific fireman, went to Kansas City yesterday afternoon on a several days' visit.

Chris. Heller, who had his finger badly mashed at the Missouri Pacific shops, has gone to the company hospital at Kansas City. Lou Bernstein, his brother-in-law, accompanied him and took in the K. of P. sights.

Frank Hoar, the Lexington branch mail clerk is feeling particular well pleased to-day. His wife and friends surprised him with a birthday picnic at Forest park. This is Frank's twenty ninth birthday, yet he could pass muster for 23.

The car famine increases day by day. The Missouri Pacific was short 1,000 cars at St. Louis yesterday, which were needed for grain and as one of the officers put it, "You wouldn't think there was a freight car in the United States."

Special World's Fair Cars.

A special car for World's fair passenger business has been designed at the Columbus shops of the Pennsylvania lines, and it is said that 100 of them are to be built there. These will be built on the frames of standard 34-foot gondolas, and after the special occasion for their use is passed they can be cheaply converted for freight service. They are to have wide windows and comfortable seats, and will be used only for comparatively short runs, say 100 miles. Naturally with freight cars trucks they will not be as comfortable to ride in as regular passenger cars, but for short runs they will probably be found satisfactory. The Illinois Central is working on the same lines to help out its emergency passenger equipment.

The Sedalia base ball crowds are making preparations to give the Warrensburg club a warm reception next Friday. There is considerable rivalry between the two clubs and the game will be for gone. Ambulances Insufficient to Move Cholera Patients at Hamburg.

THE UNITED STATES THREATENED.

Officials Taking Precautions—Persia Sadly Ravaged By the Dread Scurge—The Plague in Belgium Denied.

HAMBURG, Aug. 24.—The ambulances of this city are insufficient in number to meet the demands made upon them through the outbreak of cholera. Yesterday seventy ordinance carriages were utilized for the conveyance of cholera patients. Thirty-five persons have died of cholera. Some of these died within an hour after being stricken with the disease and all the others died within six hours.

Newspaper reports differ widely regarding the number of cases of cholera in this city. The Nachrichten says that so far there have been 800 cases and 120 deaths, 65 deaths occurring yesterday.

Patients as soon as reported are quickly taken by a conveyance to the hospital cholera wards. People living in the streets through which the conveyance passes shut the doors and windows of their houses until they think the danger of contagion is past. The dead are taken to the morgue, and the houses in which the patients are found are carefully disinfected. Regulations and instructions for the people are publicly placarded throughout the city. Several deaths have occurred at Altona. A thunder storm passed over the city last night making the weather cooler.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Consul Oscar Williams, at Havre, reports an epidemic of Asiatic cholera at that place, with many deaths, and advises an inspection of the fast liner La Touraine, due in the United States Saturday, August 27.

These facts have been promptly communicated to the health officers of Staten Island and every precaution will be taken by them in the matter, especially in view of the fact that the epidemic has now reached two of the most important ports in Europe with which the United States has direct communication.

PRECAUTIONS AGAINST CHOLERA. WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Although no real fear that the cholera will reach the shores of the United States is expressed by the authorities of the treasury department they are taking all precautions deemed necessary to prevent its introduction. Circulars have been issued to customs officers directing the disinfection of baggage from cholera-infected ports. Assistant Secretary Spaulding was in conference to-day with Dr. Austin, who is acting surgeon-general of the marine hospital service, in regard to further precautionary steps. The health officers at the ports of New York and Baltimore have been advised formally of the existence of cholera at Hamburg and Havre, as were also the immigrant officers at those ports.

Mr. Spaulding is also in communication with the agents of steamship lines looking to the adoption of some system of disinfection of the baggage of emigrants before embarking for the United States. THOUSANDS OF PERSIANS DYING. TEHRAN, Aug. 24.—A dispatch from Reshd, in the province of Ghilan, states that every day hundreds of persons are dying there from cholera. Reshd is a very unhealthy place and sanitary methods are unknown. The population of the town is about 20,000. Most all the imports are from the United States. A new disease is ravaging in Enselle. It causes swellings on the body and face and the mortality resulting from it is very heavy. The same disease is causing many deaths at Ardabeel, a town of 12,000 inhabitants on the Karz-Soo river. Both towns have been isolated. BELGIUM FREE FROM CHOLERA. BRUSSELS, Aug. 24.—It is officially announced that there is not a single case of Asiatic cholera in Belgium. All of the suspicious cases so far reported were merely cases of cholera nostras.

DEATH OF DA FONSECA. The First President of Brazil and De-throner of Dom Pedro Passes Away. RIO JANEIRO, Aug. 24.—Marshal Deodoro da Fonseca, the first president of the republic of Brazil, is dead.

Marshal Deodoro da Fonseca came into prominence before the world as chief of the provisional government of Brazil after the overthrow of Emperor Dom Pedro, November 15, 1889. He was born in 1830, and was the son of a wealthy Portuguese merchant. He distinguished himself in the war between Brazil and Paraguay. He was very popular at court, but at all times he displayed republican tendencies, which culminated in his declaration of the republic November 15, 1889, three days after the emperor was overthrown.

Big Marine Failure. PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—The suspension of the shipping firm of George Tweedy & Co., of London, who are principal operators of the North Atlantic Trident line of steamships, between this port and Swansea, Avonmouth, Bristol and Amsterdam, was made known here to-day at the Maritime Exchange and was the all absorbing topic of discussion among shipping men, as the firm was regarded as one of the staunchest in London.

CONVICT LEASING.

The Tennessee Legislature Greatly to Blame For the Trouble.

New YORK, Aug. 24.—Col. A. S. Colyar, who is general counsel for the Tennessee Coal & Iron Co., was at the Fifth Avenue hotel yesterday. He said he was not in New York to confer with Thomas C. Platt, president of the company, regarding the conflict labor troubles in Tennessee, but was on his way to Boston on legal business.

"There is no particular reason why I should see Mr. Platt on the subject of the Tennessee uprising," said Col. Colyar. "The officials of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Co., Mr. Platt included, are of one mind in that matter, and the company is certainly not in anywise responsible for the disgraceful condition of affairs in the state."

"A resolution passed by the board of directors of the company, freely offering to surrender the convict lease, has been in the hands of the state officials for over four years, and the company exacts no conditions in making the surrender. The Tennessee Coal & Iron Co. will renew its offer to surrender its lease, and will probably insist that its offer be accepted, and the legislature will then have to determine whether it shall again endanger the financial reputation of the state by undertaking penitentiary enterprises which will entirely remove convict labor from the contract system, or whether it shall endanger the reputation of the state as an orderly and peaceable community, and alienate the anti-convict labor voters by looking about for another company that is willing to pay the state for the labor of the convict."

"One thing is certain, that when the Tennessee Coal & Iron Co. once gives up its lease it will never again employ convict labor. One of the chief reasons which first induced the company to take up the system was the great chance which it seemed to present for overcoming strikes. For some years after we began the convict labor system we found that we were right in calculating that the free laborers would be loath to enter upon strikes when they saw that the company was amply supplied with convict labor, and as I am one who does not approve of the convict system I don't mind saying that for many years the company found this an effective club to be held over the heads of the free laborers. But the clamorings of the people of the past few years, combined with the recent disgraceful events, have disgusted the company with the whole business, and we shall all be glad when we are well out of it."

UNFOUNDED RUMORS.

No Privileges to Be Allowed Trespassing Cattlemen—The Mysterious Mr. Guthrie.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Rumor about the interior department had it yesterday that owing to the representations by western cattlemen backed up by warm personal friends of the president, the latter would issue an order postponing for a time his former order directing the removal of the cattle from the Cherokee strip. Investigation proved that the report is untrue.

Gen. Vincent said there were no new developments in the matter, and that the troops, so far as he knew, were carrying out their orders and removing the cattle.

Chief Clerk Dawson said: "The interested parties have represented that many cattle had been put on the Cherokee strip by permission of some man named Guthrie, who is said to have had certain privileges. Now this department has never had any knowledge of this man Guthrie. If he has cattle on the strip, as it is said he has, they are there illegally and they will be summarily removed. We don't know any man named Guthrie at all and the assertion that such an individual has now or has at any time had any privileges or concessions in that country, is nonsense, pure and simple. With the plea of the cattlemen that the removal of the herds will spread disease and their charitable fear that the people will consequently have to eat diseased meat this department has nothing to do. The statement that they have no place to drive their herds because Kansas won't let them in and there is opposition to them in Texas, is likewise none of our business. The cattle must go and you may rest assured that such decision is final. The representations so far made will not have the least earthly effect upon it. There will be no modification or postponement of the president's orders."

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 24.—The plumbers of Memphis went on a strike yesterday. Two years ago they struck for shorter hours and after a long fight succeeded in effecting a compromise. This time they demand that the foreman do no work, interfere in no way with the tools, but merely superintend.

The Old Timers are not in It

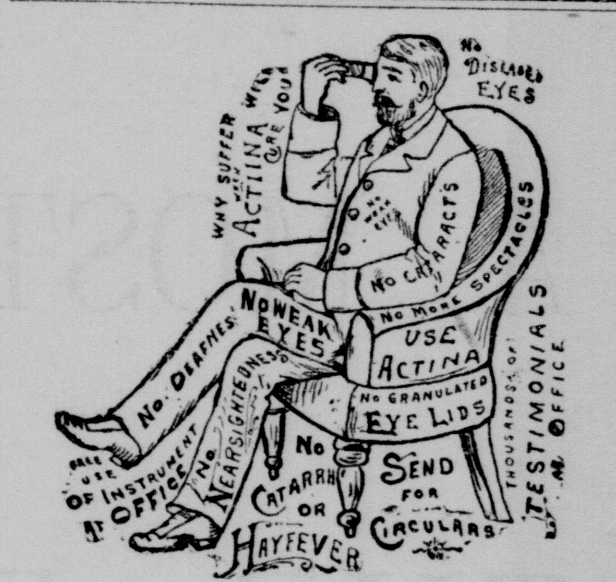

While at our other store at Big Island, Va., last April, I was taken with a very severe attack of diarrhoea. I never had it worse in my life. I tried several old-time remedies, such as Blackberry Wine, Paragoric and Laudanum, without getting any relief. My attention was then called to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy by Mr. R. C. Tinsley who had been handling it there, and in less than five minutes after taking a small dose I was entirely relieved. —O. G. BURFORD, Harris Creek, Amherst Co., Va. For sale by Aug.
